Dear Dr. Ene,

The title change is effective immediately and has been published in our directory.

There is not an exact link to your journal as Cabell's is a subscription based site and access to journal entries is available only to our subscribers. However, a copy of your journal's entry is the same as the attachment that arrived with your web site update letter. Or, if you would prefer, a free trial can be given. A free trial can be accessed for 7 days or 7 journals. To request a free trial, please use this link: <http://www.cabells.com/trial.aspx>

Please let me know if you have further questions.

Cordially,
Heather Murphy

Dear Mrs. Murphy,

You're welcome!
Please be so kind and let us know when our (changed) title is included in Cabell's Directories or provide us a link for searching the journal title ourselves, if possible. This would be indeed very useful as our authors frequently ask us to provide a proof of the journal indexing in international databases.

Thank you,

Best regards,
